Overcoming Obstacles in Business... ...Will You Perform Under Adversity?

Sharonville, Ohio: "I wanted to die in peace," says Staff Sergeant Paul Brondhaver, US Army (retired), "but I was the leader with responsibility for my team of men and women. It's the same in business," he continues, "how will you – your boss – your teammate - react to a problem, a failure, a competitive threat?"

Learn from one who built a team then stood with them under extreme circumstances. Learn about effective communication, about professional respect, about focus, about working together for a common goal, about attitude, about doing the right thing... all applicable immediately back at the office!

"When something bad happens you want to be left alone - but as a leader, you can't. You have responsibilities, just as the teammate has a responsibility to follow." Paul learned these and other valuable lessons leading a combat platoon under fire in Iraq.

Make this a team building opportunity – bring your business group, church team, civic organization. Paul's personal message of "hard work, teamwork, a positive attitude and determination" will bring great rewards to you and your team.

"The lessons of Paul's story affected my life," Sharonville Mayor Virgil Lovitt II tells us, "no one should miss this seminar."

"This seminar will motivate, inspire and help you in your personal and professional life." says Chamber President Rich Arnold, "I appeal to you, do not miss this opportunity."

More on Paul Brondhaver, an Anderson Township resident....

Near the Tigris River in Iraq, on July 2004 his Humvee was hit by a 300 mph rocket-propelled grenade. One of his fellow soldiers from the 216th died in his arms and Brondhaver was left with over 300 pieces of metal in his body.

"If anybody is a hometown hero, he is. He's done so much for his community, for the kids of the community, and for his country. Putting your life on the line - you can't do more than that." – Cincinnati Enquirer

"Someone described him as the type of guy you want to be," said Mark Celsor, Brondhaver's current boss with the Cincinnati Recreation Commission.

“Paul Brondhaver of the Madisonville Center received a letter from Anthony Munoz along with a check in the amount of $15,000 for the NFL Flag Football Program. Mr. Munoz stated that he is proud to partner with CRC and thanked Mr. Brondhaver for his commitment to making a difference in the Tri-State region.” – Recreation Commission

Paul, his wife and high school sweetheart Lisa, and their children Tanner, Morgan and Conner live in Anderson Township.

Paul’s personal message: “hard work, teamwork, a positive attitude and determination will bring you great rewards.”
